

5475
DAYS

Jay Escobar

Lyrics by Jay Escobar Illustrations by Fatima Seehar

Love of a Lifetime

Fifteen years, and we still got it, Still a spark in you're eyes, knowing you're wanted the days get tough, with so much work to do fighting for a little time, just me and you We've got history, but there's still mystery I can get lost in time when you walk in a room we don't have everything that we first dreamed but what we've made together, is all I'd ever choose

We took a chance on forever glowed up together
slowed it down just right, got a little wiser, and life got better

Still got that thing that can't be taught, still turn me up with just a thought.
still make me laugh like no one can.
still proud to say that I'm your man In the love of a lifetime, the love of a lifetime

We ain't perfect, but we're close enough fifteen deep, We know the best is yet to come you know my flaws, you know my fears, you still choose me after all these years. we pray together, we learned some grace. life moves so fast, but we found our pace when I bring the fire, you calm the flame and we've grown together through years of change

We took a chance on forever
glowed up together
slowed it down just right,
Got a little wiser, and life got better

Still got that thing that can't be taught,
still turn me up with just a thought.
still make me laugh like no one can.
still proud to say that I'm your man

In the love of a lifetime, the love of a lifetime

And the little things mean so much one smile, one look, one touch coffee on the couch while the kids sleep conversations on life getting so deep moving houses and states and making a way balancing budgets and working long days and the love could've faded, could've stalled but we invest in each other through it all you hold me down, and I lift you high, we still that vibe no one can deny and every home that we share feels like a Palace but I still got the dream to take you to Paris

Still got that thing that can't be taught,
still turn me up with just a thought.
still make me laugh like no one can.
still proud to say that I'm your man

In the love of a lifetime, the love of a lifetime

In the love of a lifetime, the love of a lifetime, the love of a lifetime, love of a lifetime

Forever More

Baby, you're the melody I am the lyrics together we make beautiful music I want the whole world to hear it

I asked for something good and I was given something better you're the answer to my prayer promise I will love you forever

And I will be forever yours no matter what comes, we'll weather storms girl I know that I am better for letting you love me and loving you forever more

Together we will stay I see in every way my love for you is stronger than it was yesterday

I asked for something good
and I was given something better
you're the answer to my prayer
promise I will love you forever

And I will be forever yours
no matter what comes, we'll weather storms girl I know that I am better for letting you love me and loving you forever more

We'll walk this endless road wherever you are I'm home seems like I've waited a lifetime to leave the cold behind and feel your sunshine

And I will be forever yours
no matter what comes, we'll weather storms
girl I know that I am better for
letting you love me and loving you forever more

loving you forever more
loving you forever more
forever more

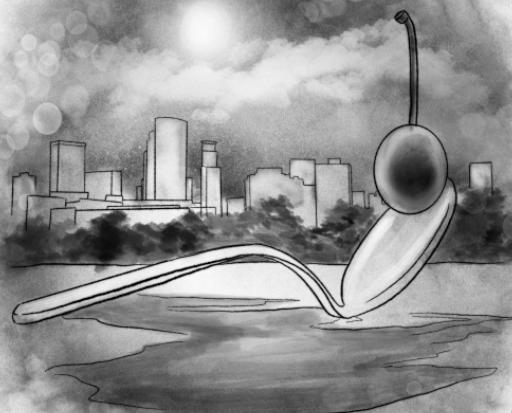

Cherry On a Spoon

Not quite modern midcentury more like a midnight treasury halfway on the road to destiny discovering who we were meant to be fifteen chapters in back in Minnesota let the sunset on LA we Must like it when it's colder

And hope is a place that I love to live
I love you and the kids
I love moments like this when the sky paints shades of purple and gold

We're out of control
in our right minds
put it all on the line
going for Broke God made the perfect plan
sometimes it feels like we're going, too fast or it feels like we're lost on the road

Giant cherry on a spoon and the waters gonna move We got here just in time
not a moment too soon

In the wake of the fires Need a new skyline to see Something familiar Something to set us free

And hope is a place that I love to live
I love you and the kids
I love moments like this when the sky paints shades of purple and gold

We're out of control
in our right minds
put it all on the line
going for Broke
God made the perfect plan
sometimes it feels like
we're going too fast
or it feels like we're lost on the road

Giant cherry on a spoon
and the waters gonna move
We got here just in time
not a moment too soon

But that's the way it should be
The way it should feel When God has the wheel
And that's the way we know That we're starting to grow Cause God's in control

I'll Be Home Soon

Calendar full, and the days fly by airports too often, under neon skies I'm grateful these events occupy my mind keeps me forgetting when I say goodbye

You know I love the work, seeing the lights design bittersweet that I'm on the road, when I feel that high you've always supported my dreams and been by my side baby, our connection is like the moon and the tide

This hustle means nothing if it doesn't lead back to you catching the first plane home to see you this afternoon we rendezvous and light it up like we never skipped a beat every goodbye is a promise that I have to keep that I'll be home soon

Backstage is buzzing, and it's a rush through every moment I know you're holding down so much to keep things going I stay on the move, but don't get it confused every minute, every mile's just a step back to you

You know I love the work, seeing the lights design bittersweet that I'm on the road, when I feel that high you've always supported my dreams and been by my side baby, our connection is like the moon and the tide

This hustle means nothing if it doesn't lead back to you catching the first plane home to see you this afternoon we rendezvous and light it up like we never skipped a beat every goodbye is a promise that I have to keep
that I'll be home soon

Movin' fast but my heart's on slow work got me flyin' where the time won't show still I smile, 'cause I know the truth every red-eye ride is a path to you Grindin' hard, but you're the reason behind every season, girl you give me meaning you're my balance in the chaos, my peace in the plane my inspiration to stay sharp, to elevate my game
And when I'm back?
It's like time rewinds you and me, love, in an intertwined divine you're all mine

This hustle means nothing if it doesn't lead back to you
catching the first plane home to see you this afternoon
we rendezvous and light it up like we never skipped a beat
every goodbye is a promise that I have to keep
that I'll be home soon

Decades

progress and passion we hoped to imagine decades of happiness it's form over fashion the years complicated our dreams reenvisioned hand in hand walking through those intermissions

We're well into our lifetime together I'm so much happier than I can ever remember I know that you're the reason why every January floats on through December

I will love you through decades we'll keep ourselves entertained with fireworks and stage plays that makes life go on
I will love you through decades
when time goes and youth fades I'll still woo you with essays that turn into songs

I can barely recall What life was at all Before rings and carpools Became our 4 walls
I've grown into balance ADHD a challenge Still hard to navigate
With talent to manage

We're well into our lifetime together I'm so much happier than I can ever remember I know that you're the reason why every January floats on through December

I will love you through decades
we'll keep ourselves entertained
with fireworks and stage plays
that makes life go on
I will love you through decades
when time goes and youth fades
I'll still woo you with essays
that turn into songs

So optimistic about the future we mastered our maneuvers captured memories in our cameras and computers freedom is born from neverminds knowing peace always comes in time chasing sleep when our souls need to revive reassign the process of wants and needs realign our focus on bigger things redesign the projects we hope to see redefine the concept of you and me

I will love you through decades,
decades,
through decades, ohhh, decades

5475

We started with a couch and a coffee pot two hearts, one dream, and a parking lot bills stacked high, but your hand in mine felt richer than money could ever define you cried some nights as we found our path you wore that phrase
"this too shall pass" we built this home with love and fight fifteen years, and it still feels right

Fifty-Four Hundred and Seventy-Five Days
of waking up and choosing you the same way through the storms, the stretch, the winter nights we turned the unknown into something so right we've been broke, been blessed, joined our lives 5475, and love still drives

Sushi and wine, and some good conversation we made a place for love and patience raising kids, trying our best to be better show them a love that they can remember you taught me grace, I learned to bend you stayed when others might've reached the end now we're seeing the years start to creep in still feel the fire where love begins

Fifty-Four Hundred and Seventy-Five Days
of waking up and choosing you the same way
through the storms, the stretch, the winter nights
we turned the unknown into something so right
we've been broke, been blessed, joined our lives
5475, and love still drives

Time don't lie—it etches lines connecting this story we've wrote through life every trial, every tear led us closer to who we are right here

Fifty-Four Hundred and Seventy-Five Days
of waking up and choosing you the same way
through the storms, the stretch, the winter nights
we turned the unknown into something so right
we've been broke, been blessed, joined our lives
5475, and love still drives

Yeah, 5475...
And I'd do it all again

